bible question

Q1: Why did God let Adam name the animals?

(Hint: Genesis 2:18)

God could have named all the different kinds of animals in a split second, but God wanted to teach Adam and us a lesson. He wanted to show us that we are different from animals.

Q2: Did Adam give each of the animals the names that we call them today?

(Hint: Genesis 2:20)

Adam named each kind of animal, not each and every variety and species. For example, he named dogs and "dogs" but not each individual kind of dog. We know a lot of the dogs by name like Yorkies or golden retrievers, but Adam didn't name them like that. Also, we don't know what language Adam spoke in, so we can't fully tell if the names that the animals have right now are still the same.
